Pulp International business LTD (FXPULP), a CYSEC licensed company and online Global FX broker announces participation in the 2010 Middle East Online Trading Summit & Awards in Dubai November 9-10 at the Jumeirah Emirates Towers Hotel.

"We look forward to meeting with our clients in the region face to face, and this will be just the beginning of a multi visits and expos in the MENA region that we will be targeting," said FXPULP Managing Director Said al Salem. "We are proud to be there, and we are ready to compete through our various trading solutions and dedication to quality."

The Middle East Online Trading Summit & Awards Dubai 2010 will be the largest online trading exhibition, conference and awards event in the MENA region bringing together the industries:

- World-renowned Speakers & Brokers
- 50 + International Exhibitors & Sponsors
- More than 2,000 Investors under one roof

"During the past year, we have witnessed events in the global economy with record decline and struggling times for many industries," said Katia Tayar, founder and president of ARABCOM Group. "However, there is a dynamic energy that kept business going – the online trading industry."

"The Middle East Online Trading Summit & Awards provide the place where FX brokers can connect to the clients, and share their advancements and success, while being in the most friendly and professional environment," said Al Salem. "As we all know, Dubai is the new financials hub for the world, and I can't think of any other place to start our journey."
